APA Style References Page

What is a references page?
A references page is a complete listing of any sources you used in writing your paper. It allows the reader to easily find the sources you used for your research.

Special formatting to consider:
- The word “References” centered at the top of the page
- Double-spaced, 12-pt. font
- Alphabetical by whichever source element comes first; in most cases, the author’s last name
- Hanging indent

Books
Citation formula: Author’s last name, author’s first initial. (year published). Title of book: First word of title and first word after a colon capitalized. City of publication, state of publication: publisher.

- Single author:

- Two or more authors:

Journal Article from a Database
Citation formula: author’s last name, first initial. (year of publication). Title of article, Name of Journal, volume number(issue number), page numbers. DOI [or Retrieved from URL if DOI not available].

Journal Article not from a Database

Citation formula: author’s last name, first initial. (year). Title of article. Name of Journal, volume number(issue number), page numbers.

Web Sites

Citation formula – list as many of the following elements are available: author’s last name, first initial (or organization). (year; n.d. if there is no date). Title, retrieved from publisher website: URL.